

How To Make A Triorama

Thanks K Smith

	1) Fold.
	2) Fold again.
	3) Cut on the solid line.
	4) Overlap A over B and glue.
	5) Repeat with the second piece of paper. Glue the finished pieces together, joining them at the sides.

Example of a triorama display.

BIOGRAPHY BOOK REPORT

This book report is due on _____.

Read a biography (an account of a person's life):

1. Follow the directions for constructing each of the two triangles. In each triangle, you will be creating a scene highlighting an important event in the person's life.
2. Using craft materials such as construction paper, cotton, craft sticks, string, and other materials, you should make each scene look as three-dimensional as possible.
3. On the bottom flap of each triangle, handwrite a complete, detailed paragraph describing the scene.

Do not copy directly from your book!

Glue the two triangles side-by-side, creating one triorama project.

Include the title and author's name on your display.

BIOGRAPHY BOOK REPORT RUBRIC

WRITTEN PORTION

Two of the person's major life events should be summarized in handwriting.

Each will be written on the flap of a triangle scene.

The guidelines and possible points are as follows:

Guidelines:	Points
1. Written in own words	/10
2. Uses neat and legible cursive writing	/10
3. Includes two paragraphs (one for each scene)	/15
4. Grammar/spelling/punctuation	/15
Total Written:	/50

TRIORAMA DISPLAY

This project consists of two triangles put together. The guidelines and possible points are as follows:

Guidelines:	Points
1. Two triangles glued together	/10
2. Neatness	/10
3. Creativity	/10
4. Effort	/10
5. Own work	/10

Total display

/50

Total Written

Total Display

Total for Report

_____ /100 points

Final Grade

www.pedagonet.com